What You Need to Know

My name is Grant Hofman, and I am entering my 5th year as middle-school Bible teacher and whole-school chaplain. I am so excited for what this year will bring! I have been praying for your children already, trusting that they will be protected as they get ready for a new school year under strange circumstances.

In Bible class, my deepest hope is that your child comes to know, love, and serve Jesus Christ as the savior of their life. Even if you or your child is not a believer, however, I am committed to finding creative ways to help students learn and love the stories and text of the Bible.

As chaplain, I am available to set up virtual appointments to process and pray through any emotional and spiritual needs that develop throughout the year. I know that this time of coronavirus has had a particular strain on a lot of children's mental and spiritual health, so I want to be sure that you know I am available as a resource!
